COLSA Corporation Honored with Volunteer Corporation of the Year Award for Helping Veterans

The Volunteer Center of Huntsville hosted the 2008 Partners for Charity Volunteer of the Year Awards ceremony where COLSA Corporation was awarded the Volunteer Corporation of the Year Award. COLSA's award was earned by helping a veteran advocacy group provide services to wounded veterans, providing mentors for wounded veterans and their families, and for volunteering for fundraisers and job development assistance for veterans. In addition, COLSA was recognized for hiring wounded veterans to help them become viable members of the community.
