New COLSA Corporation Headquarters Building Opens for Business

The COLSA Campus is growing in Huntsville, Alabama. Located in Cummings Research Park, the new corporate building was completed in June 2008. The three-story building is situated on approximately 10 acres and includes a 4,500 square foot special purpose raised computer room area. The COLSA Campus includes a 91,000 square foot building which currently houses the Advanced Research Center, the former 75,000 square foot corporate building, and the new headquarters building.
