COLSA Awarded TAMS 4 Contract

COLSA Corporation has been awarded a Technical and Acquisition Management Support (TAMS) 4 contract at the Air Armament Center, Eglin AFB by the U.S. Air Force. On TAMS 4, a multiple award, indefinite delivery/indefinite quantity contract, COLSA has a ceiling of $200 million. For the TAMS 4 contract, COLSA will provide advisory and assistance services in support of a range of diverse, non-engineering areas required for the acquisition, development, production, and support of equipment and weapon systems at Eglin AFB. The award continues COLSA's support of the Air Armament Center that began under TAMS 3. With the contract award, COLSA has become the first incumbent prime contractor on any TAMS contract to be selected for continued support as a prime contractor.

"The TAMS contract was a high priority for COLSA, so we were very pleased to hear of our award," said COLSA's President, Dr. Richard Amos. "COLSA's on-going mission is to provide customer-focused support which exceeds expectations—being awarded our second consecutive TAMS contract is an indication that we are on that path. Our history of support on TAMS has been a successful one, and we look forward to the privilege of being able to continue supporting the Air Force's vision at Eglin."
